

SNOOK DEFENSE WAIVES SANITY TRIAL

SEVEN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION WEST OF CITY

LAWYERS FOR CO-ED SLAYER CHANGE PLANS

First Degree Murder Trial Scheduled To Start Wednesday at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—(INS)—
Attorneys for Dr. James Howard
Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora Hix, will waive the man's constitutional right for a sanity
hearing and the first degree murder trial will start in criminal court
here Wednesday morning.
Judge Henry L. Scarlett, presiding judge of criminal court, so informed International News Service today.
Scarlett said he had been satisfied by E. O. Ricketts, defense attorney, that Dr. Snook will waive his right for a sanity hearing.

TRIAL WEDNESDAY
The murder trial will begin Wednesday morning, Judge Scarlett continued. "I have already notified Sheriff Harry T. Paul to notify the prospective jurors for the murder trial to appear at that time."

The jurist declared that attorneys for the confessed killer of his "love-nest" sweetheart, would have to appear in his court Monday morning and withdraw the motion they have already filed,
which requests a hearing for the man to determine whether or not
Dr. Snook was insane at the time he brutally slew Miss Hix, medical student at the Ohio State university.

Judge Scarlett declared that Ricketts told him the attorneys for the deceased university instructor
would follow that line of action.

SANE VERDICT SEEN
The defense's step, in attempting the sanity hearing, is believed to have been influenced by reports that three court authorities had reached a verdict that Dr. Snook was sane on the night of June 12,
when he beat Miss Hix's skull 17
times with a hammer and slit her jugular vein, shoulder and abom-
en with a pocket knife.

Three court authorities, Dr. Guy
H. Williams, of the Cleveland state hospital, Dr. William H.
Vorbau, of the Lima State hospital and Dr. Arthur G. Hyde of the Massillon state hospital, examined the man Thursday afternoon.

It has been learned from reliable sources that their report found Dr. Snook sane at the time of the hearing, though the official finding have not as yet been disclosed.

SEYFERT CONFIRMS
The defense also had two alienists employed and the state, the day after Dr. Snook confessed to the crime, engaged three local criminal doctors.

The confessed slayer, who at one time maintained a one room apartment for Miss Hix and himself where they were known as
Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, had been examined by eight alienists.

M. C. Seyfert, Circleville, another defense attorney, confirmed Judge Scarlett's announcement
from his home at Circleville.

DIVORCES GRANTED ON NEGLECT PLEAS

Saturday morning in the common pleas court Judge Joseph W.
Adkins granted a divorce to Theodore C. Blackwell, from Ora Blackwell. The cause for divorce was gross neglect of duty. The court also barred the defendant
from any interest in the property of the plaintiff. The parties were married Nov. 15, 1927, and have no children.

M. C. Seyfert Jr., represented
the plaintiff.

In the divorce case of Leona B.
Brown, Circleville, against Herbert
B. Brown, Chillicothe Judge Joseph
W. Adkins granted the plaintiff a divorce on her petition accusing the defendant of gross neglect of duty awarded the custody of the two minor children and all personal property to the plaintiff.

M. C. Seyfert Jr. represented
the plaintiff and Garrett S. Claypool, Chillicothe, represented the defendant.

BERGER IS BETTER

MILWAUKEE, Wis. July 20.
Victor L. Berger socialist leader was in a satisfactory condition but not out of danger, his physician at the Milwaukee hospital said today. Berger, 68, suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries Tuesday when he was struck by a street car.

Film Magnate Better

Even though a blood transfusion was necessary for William Fox, injured movie chain owner, his condition is not serious. The film king's car was overturned at Hoslyn, L.
I., when struck by another machine. His friend with him was injured and his chauffeur killed.

GIRL AND BOY FACE CHARGES

Pair Arrested In Lancaster In Robbery of McAfee Store
At Meade.

A girl and a boy are in the Pickaway-co jail facing charges of grand larceny in connection with the theft of $50 from the cash register of Frank McAfee's store at Meade this week. They are Mrs. Catherine Steinmetz, 18, and Harry Guisinger, 16, both of Lancaster, who were arrested by the police of that city.

They were arrested with the girl's husband, Raymond Steinmetz, as suspects in the store robbery. It is charged the register was looted by Guisinger while Mr.
and Mrs. Steinmetz kept the attention of the proprietor in the purchase of gasoline for their Studebaker touring car.

A number of new tools, two pairs of trousers and an electric lighter were found in the car by the Lancaster police, who found a large and varied quantity of merchandise in the Steinmetz residence, which was also searched.
Some of the merchandise, valued at several hundred dollars, was identified by representatives of three stores in Lancaster.

Steinmetz is held by Fairfield authorities to answer a charge of grand larceny in that county.
Mrs. Steinmetz and Guisinger were brought to Circleville by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and Probation Officer Lowell Brown to answer similar charges here in connection with the robbery at Meade. Similar charges have been filed against them at Lancaster and the same charge has been filed against Steinmetz here.

Goldie Bowsher Arrested On Manslaughter Charge After
Fatal Accident.

Miss Goldie Bowsher, 20, of S.
Scioto-st., driver of the Whippet
sedan which collided with the Buick touring car of Denny Mc-Clarren, Logan-st., at Mill and Court-sts Friday noon, hurling her cousin, Graham Hanninger 24, a S. Court-st barber, to his death, is held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter.

The girl was arrested by Officer
William McCrady late Friday afternoon after he had conferred with Prosecutor Emmett L. Crist.
It is said statements of several witnesses to the accident declared that Miss Bowsher did not stop her car at Court-st. before starting across the main thoroughfare from Mill-st.

SAYS SHE STOPPED
Shortly after the accident, Miss Bowsher said she had stopped her auto and started across Court-st
when she failed to see any car approaching on the main thoroughfare. Hanninger, on the running board of the McClarren car, was hurled to the pavement by the impact and died an hour later at the Home and Hospital from a fractured skull.

The charge of manslaughter against Miss Bowsher was preferred to permit a grand jury investigation of the case. It is part of the city and county authorities
campaign to curb reckless driving.
Prosecutor Crist said.

FATHER GIVES BOND
Miss Bowsher was arraigned before Mayor B. T. Hedges, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond,
which was provided by her father,
Charles Bowsher.

Hanninger's body will be sent on the 6:52 o'clock train over the N.
& W. railroad Saturday evening by the Albaugh Co. to the home of the mother, Mrs. Maude Krignon, Canton, for funeral services and burial.

ST. LOUIS ROBINS STILL IN FLIGHT

LAMBERT FIELD, ST. LOUIS.
July 20.—St. Louis' two high-flying robins, the "St. Louis Robin" and the "Missouri Robin," endurance planes were still dipping lazily over the surrounding country here today.

At 7:17 this morning the "St.
Louis Robin" completed its first full week in the air and at 8:17 it had 168 hours of continuous flying to its credit.

The "Missouri Robin," a sister ship, was to celebrate the beginning of its fourth day in the air
at 10:31 this morning.

land is visiting her aunt, Mrs. An-

Reports Pickaway Wheat Crop Below Estimate and Quality Under Average

Bushel Yields—Threshing, 24 Bushels.

With the threshing of the wheat crop getting well under way Pick-away-co farmers have found that the yield had been quite generally over estimated according to County Agent H. S. Lewis. There is a large crop of straw and according to the twine requirement per acre
the yields were estimated from any place to 30 to 40 bushels.

The actual threshing records show the average yield to be about 20 bushels per acre. In some cases the yield runs as low as 12 to 15 bushels per acre. The quality of the crop varies, but is much below that of an average Pickaway-co wheat crop. Threshing records obtained by County Agent Lewis from the elevators and the threshing machines representing 375 acres of wheat showed a total of 9191 bushels or an average of 24 bushels per acre.
This survey was made in the north central part of the county, in Harrison, Walnut, Scioto and Madison towns.

Reports from threshing rings,
farmers, elevators and grain men
from other sections of the county indicate that the average yield is approximately 20 bushels. The average test weight per bushel is about 56 pounds.

Liberal fertilizer applications
have shown their merits in both quality and yield this year. Practically every case of well matured
good yielding high testing wheat was treated with a liberal application of fertilizer last fall.

Threshing is getting well under way and with favorable weather
the wheat crop will be out of the way by the end of next week.
The Pickaway Grain Co. the farmers' cooperative elevator in Circleville, took in 5300 bushels of wheat Friday, July 19. This represented 93 loads of wheat. The average test of the wheat received by the cooperative is 56 pounds per bushel.

Will Visit Here

The Earl of Derby, prominent British sportsman, will visit the United States shortly for the first time in 36 years. He plans to remain until spring to witness the running of the Kentucky Derby. His ancestors furnished the cup for the first English Derby that was later named in their honor.

TAX ON BANKS IS HELD VOID

Pickaway-Co Institutions May
Be Relieved of Making
Payments.

Five National banks in Pick-away-co are among the more than 300 in Ohio which may be relieved of paying taxes on their shares of capital stock until the legislature amends the state taxation laws as a result of the report of William J. Ford, master commissioner, filed Friday with Federal Judge Benson W. Hough.

Making his report in the case
brought by three Columbus banks
against the Franklin-co treasurer, Commissioner Ford held illegal and void taxes assessed against shares of those institutions under present state laws.

The First National bank of New Holland, the Farmers' National bank of Williamsport, and the First, Second and Third national banks of Circleville have not paid
any taxes on their capital stock
for 1927 and 1928 having enjoined
the Pickaway-co treasurer from collecting these taxes until the dispute over their legality is settled.
The taxes uncollected on the stock
of these banks amounts to approximately $27,000, according to County Auditor Bryce Briggs.

Charles H. Mylander, secretary of the Ohio Bankers' Association,
said of the suit:

"The suit does not represent any desire on the part of national banks of Ohio to avoid payment of just and equitable taxes on their shares. The action was brought in a friendly manner in an effort to have determined by the courts
whether Ohio taxation laws affecting stock of national banks are in conflict with federal statutes in that other capital in competition with that of the banks is not taxed to the same degree. The master commissioner has held that this conflict exists. If the courts hold with him and the state's tax laws
are changed, the national banks will be glad to pay their taxes on such an equitable basis as may be worked out."

FOR COP'S DEATH
COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 20.— Robert Ford of Cincinnati, had given with his life today for the freedom of a policeman.
After fracturing his arm and leg
in a fight with a man named Ford and calmly to his death in the police chair at the Ohio State penitentiary last night, being so crucified as his last act, Ford has saved his fellow policeman
of the government of Ohio at New London Conn. asking for a cave. He mumbled his last invoice continually while on the death chamber.

When Control Board Asks
Opinions.

Three members of council favor
the purchase of a Seagrave pumper; one favors the Ahrens-Fox pumper; one favors either the Seagrave or Ahrens-Fox machine, and one says the choice is entirely up to the board of control.

These choices were indicated at an informal meeting of council Friday night with the board of control, when the board sought the advice of council concerning the purchase of a new fire engine for the city. Although five companies submitted bids on the new pumper,
only the products of the Seagrave Corporation, Columbus; the Ahrens-Fox Fire Engine Co., Cincinnati, and the American LaFrance and Foamite Industries New York, were considered. Each of these companies bid $12,500 on a 750
gallon pumper and $13,000 on a 1,000 gallon pumper.

The majority of the councilmen favored a 1,000 gallon pumper and the majority of them present at the meeting picked the Seagrave machine because of its record and nearness to Circleville in case of emergencies. Two of the councilmen frowned on the Ahrens-Fox bid because of the deal for the old pumper, for which the city will receive only $1 if the corporation's bill for tearing down and storing it is paid.

SELECTION NEXT WEEK
Following the meeting, Mayor B.
T. Hedges said that the board will select a pumper either Monday or Tuesday. The other members of the board are Safety Director Cas-sus Clay and Service Director L.
E. Miller.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise, who was present at the meeting, said he favored the purchase of an Ahrens-Fox machine because the old pumper, which was of that make, had given good service for 16 years
and that the firemen were familiar with its operation. He said the piston pump of the Ahrens-Fox is more efficient in fire fighting work than the centrifugal pump of the Seagrave or the rotary pump of the American LaFrance. John K.
Ahrens, of the Ahrens-Fox Co., made a brief talk on the performance records of his firm's pumper.

Councilman Clark expressed his preference for the Seagrave machine, chiefly because the company's plant is near Circleville, insuring rapid service in the face of emergencies or mishaps. Councilman T. F. Barnes declared that all three pumps under consideration are good, but that the selection of one is the sole responsibility of the board of control. He said he would be satisfied with the board's choice.
Councilman E. S. Neuding said that he had made an investigation into the claims of the various companies and believes that the Ahrens-Fox piston pump is the best all-around duty machine.

James E. Shaw, Laborer, Dies
Suddenly At Hulse-Hayes
Farm.

A heart attack, believed caused by indigestion, caused the death
at 5:30 p. m., Friday of James E.
Shaw, 51 a farm laborer employed on the Hulse-Hayes farm in Jackson-twp.

Shaw became ill Friday afternoon and died an hour and half later in his cabin on the Hayes
farm.
He was born in Hocking-co the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shaw.
He came to Pickaway-co 15 years ago and in September, 1917, he was married in Columbus. He is survived by his widow, Ida Shaw.
The body was taken to the Albaugh funeral parlors.

The time of the funeral services
conducted by Rev. O. L. Ferguson and burial in Forest cemetery will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kraft returned Friday from a wedding trip
south and left Saturday morning for a northern trip to Toledo and other lake cities. They will be at

JACKSON-TWP RESIDENTS IN SEVERE CRASH

Four Cincinnatians Also Hurt
In Wreck At Road
Intersection.

Seven persons were injured, two seriously, in an automobile collision at the intersection of the Jackson pike and the Williamsport road, two miles west of Circleville, at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The injured are:
Mrs. J. Phelan, Cincinnati, fractured collar bone, broken nose
and severe cuts about the head and chest.

H. M. Messer, Jackson-twp, severely injured back and badly shocked.

Steve Messer, Jackson-twp, back injured and right arm lacerated.

Mrs. H. M. Messer, Jackson-twp, dislocated shoulder and cuts
on arms, hands and face.

Mrs. C. Scroggins, Cincinnati,
cut on face and arms.

J. Phelan, Cincinnati, scalp wound.

C. Scroggins, Cincinnati, cut and bruised.

A new Ford sedan, driven by J.
Phelan, and an Essex driven by Steve Messer crashed at the intersection of the roads. Both cars were badly wrecked, the Phelan car running down a 10-foot embankment. Most of the injuries were caused by the force of the impact and shattered glass. Neither car overturned.

Mader and Ebert's ambulance brought Mrs. Messer, Mrs. Phelan, Mrs. Scroggins, and H. M. Messer to the Mader and Ebert funeral parlors. The ambulance later brought Phelan, Scroggins and Steve Messer to the establishment.
Dr. Howard Jones and Dr. D. V.
Courtright were called to attend
their injuries.

The Messers, who were on their way to Portsmouth, were taken to their home in Jackson-twp. The Cincinnatians will remain in Circleville until their auto is repaired
when they will return to Cincinnati.

REEVES IS FREED AT FAYETTE JAIL

Carey Reeves, of near New Holland, taken into custody several days ago by Fayette-co officers, in the ditch on the C. C. C. highway, a mile and a half out of Washington, C. H., is out, under $300 bond for his appearance before Probate Judge Murry on August 2, when a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated

will be heard.

Ohio Will Step In Line Sunday With States Permitting High Speed Rates

New Law Raises Limit To 40
Miles In Country, 35
In Cities.

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—Ohio
will step into line tomorrow, with six other states which permit automobiles to travel highways at a high rate of speed.
A new speed law, which raises the state limit to 40 miles per hour outside of cities, and which was enacted at the recent session of the 1929 general assembly, becomes effective at midnight Sunday.

Only six other states have similar marks. They are Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Nevada, and North and South Carolina.
But that is not mentioning the states which have no speed restrictions at all—that is, on thoroughfares outside of municipalities.

NO SPEED LAWS
They are Connecticut, Michigan and Montana. Indiana recently aspired to the latter class when the law-making bodies of that state, passed a bill making the "sky the limit," as it would be said in poker parlance.

In six of the remaining 37 states, a motorist is allowed to send his car skimming 56 feet
over the road every time the clock
ticks off one of its lowly seconds.

Talking in the vernacular which sounds sweetest to the motoring millions, that is a rate of 40 miles an hour.

Those states are Georgia, Kansas, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, and far-off Washington.
In the 31 states not indexed, motorcycle police, the denizens of the road, are allowed, and in many cases, do "lax" autoists for speeding along at a speed greater than the specified 35 miles an hour.

Municipal speed limits vary as much as day and night ranging from 10 or 12 miles an hour to 25 miles.

CITY LIMIT RAISED
Besides liberating the speed limit on highways the new Ohio State law makes the concession of a traveling momentum of 35 miles an hour in residential districts in cities and a speed limit of 25 miles an hour in congested city areas.

This according to solons who pleaded for the enactment of it will alleviate traffic conditions in crowded downtown areas.

It was a game of "give and take" with the state legislators
who passed the foregoing law.

After putting the stamp of approval on the speed limit bill, allowing motorists to go faster,
they passed another piece of legislation which boosted the gas tax
from three to four cents a gallon.

INTRODUCTION

The Circleville, Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association was formed February 23, 1929, in answer to the need for development of aeronautics in this community. The local organization has been working constantly to develop interest in aviation and educate the public, in a general way,
concerning flying and air travel.
The chapter has grown and interest has been sufficient evidence that Circleville and the community has a desire to become Air Minded.

Through the courtesy of The Circleville Herald, the Chapter expects to give the public a weekly review of the local activities and other interesting articles pertaining to aviation.

THE N. A. A. CHAPTER

Independent, aero clubs have been established from time to time, but it is the belief of the National Aeronautic Association that the maximum benefit cannot be derived by the community unless the organized aeronautical interest and activity is affiliated in the national organization. The policies of the National Aeronautic Association call for developing the interest of every person in the subject of aeronautics, and these policies, if carried out simultaneously in every community throughout the United States bring America that much closer to its goal of being first in the air.

There are cities and towns in the United States where there is aeronautical activity and interest, but through the lack of a group or organization this activity and interest remains scattered and progress is slow. As members of a chapter
of the National Aeronautic Association opportunity is offered at intervals for a mobilization of all aeronautical interest in the community. At these chapter meetings, opportunity is given for group discussion of the latest developments in aeronautics; for the introduction to the membership of persons playing prominent parts in the progress of flying; for the opportunity of meeting these persons at close quarters and learning their views and opinions on matters that otherwise would be determined, and above all for determining the aeronautical procedures
of their own communities.

CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

As each chapter, in its efforts
to bring about the maximum development of the aeronautical activity in its community, is confronted with a number of matters
local to that community, The Circleville Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association has adopted
the following chapter activities.

First—Service to Pilots. Any pilot that may land near Circleville is immediately located by an officer or member of our chapter and offered transportation to any part of the city; arrangements are made with a local oil station for gas and water when the pilots so desires; weather reports are available; storm areas are checked
with the Weather Bureau at Columbus; and above all the pilots
feel he is among friends and people who are interested in his work.

Second—Junior Activities. Mr.
R. L. Brehmer, vice-president of the chapter and Chairman of the Junior Activities Committee has formed a club of boys who are interested in airplane construction and study. This junior organization has its own officers and constitution but under the supervision of the local chapter of the N. A. A.

A Several planes have been constructed and all are flying models.
An outdoor meet has been planned for the late summer.

Third—Emergency Landing
Field and Marking Airways. The Committee on Landing Fields and Marking Airways is making an effort to have a suitable field for visiting pilots, this field will be marked and conditioned to accommodate ships as large as the Ford Tri-Motor Transport.

This committee also expects to paint the name of the town on several buildings and unimproved roads thus enabling the pilot to check his course with accuracy.

Four Cincinnatians Also Hurt
In Wreck At Road
Intersection.

Seven persons were injured, two seriously, in an automobile collision at the intersection of the Jackson pike and the Williamsport road, two miles west of Circleville, at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The injured are:

Mrs. J. Phelan, Cincinnati, fractured collar bone, broken nose and severe cuts about the head and chest.

H. M. Messer, Jackson-twp, severely injured back and badly shocked.

Steve Messer, Jackson-twp, back injured and right arm lacerated.

Mrs. H. M. Messer, Jackson-twp, dislocated shoulder and cuts on arms, hands and face.

Mrs. C. Scroggins, Cincinnati, cut on face and arms.

J. Phelan, Cincinnati, scalp wound.

C. Scroggins, Cincinnati, cut and bruised.

A new Ford sedan, driven by J. Phelan, and an Essex driven by Steve Messer crashed at the intersection of the roads. Both cars were badly wrecked, the Phelan car running down a 10-foot embankment. Most of the injuries were caused by the force of the impact and shattered glass. Neither car overturned.

Mader and Ebert's ambulance brought Mrs. Messer, Mrs. Phelan, Mrs. Scroggins, and H. M. Messer to the Mader and Ebert Funeral parlors. The ambulance later brought Phelan, Scroggins and Steve Messer to the establishment. Dr. Howard Jones and Dr. D. V. Courtright were called to attend their injuries.

The Messers, who were on their way to Portsmouth, were taken to their home in Jackson-twp. The Cincinnatians will remain in Circleville until their auto is repaired when they will return to Cincinnati.

REEVES IS FREED AT FAYETTE JAIL

Carey Reeves, of near New Holland, taken into custody several days ago by Fayette-co officers, after he had overturned his truck in the ditch on the C. H., is out, under $300 bond for his appearance before Probate Judge Murry on August 2, when a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated will be heard.

Ohio Will Step In Line Sunday With States Permitting High Speed Rates

New Law Raises Limit To 45
Miles In Country, 35
In Cities.

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—Ohio will step into line, tomorrow, with six other states which permit automobiles to travel highways at a high rate of speed.

A new speed law, which raises the state limit to 45 miles per hour outside of cities, and which was enacted at the recent session of the 1929 general assembly, becomes effective at midnight Sunday.

Only six other states have similar laws. They are Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Nevada, and North and South Carolina.

But that is not mentioning the states which have no speed restrictions at all—that is, on thoroughfares outside of municipalities.

NO SPEED LAWS

They are, Connecticut, Michigan and Montana. Indiana recently aspired to the latter class when the law-making bodies of that state, passed a bill making the "sky the limit," as it would be said in poker parlance.

In six of the remaining 37 states, a motorist is allowed to send his car skimming 58.6 feet over the road every time the clock ticks off one of its lowly seconds.

New York Shake-up

Police Commissioner Whalen of the New York police, decided his department needed jacking up and made changes which affected almost the entire force. Inspector P. S. McCormack, noted as the "hard-boiled guy," will now have the job of seeing that the Great White Way closes down on time.

James E. Shaw, Laborer, Dies
Suddenly At Hulse Hayes Farm.

A heart attack believed caused by indigestion, caused the death at 5:30 p. m., Friday of James E. Shaw, 51 a farm laborer employed on the Hulse Hayes farm in Jackson-twp.

Shaw became ill Friday afternoon and died an hour and half later in his cabin on the Hayes farm.

He was born in Hocking-co the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shaw. He came to Pickaway-co 15 years ago and in September, 1917, he was married in Columbus. He is survived by his widow, Ida Shaw.

The body was taken to the Albaugh funeral parlors.

The time of the funeral services conducted by Rev. O. L. Ferguson and burial in Forest cemetery will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kraft returned Friday from a wedding trip south and left Saturday morning for a northern trip to Toledo and other lake cities. They will be at home at 116 1-2 E. Main-st after August 1.

Talking in the vernacular which sounds sweetest to the motoring millions, that is a rate of 40 miles an hour.

Those states are Georgia, Kansas, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, and far-off Washington.

In the 31 states not indexed, motorcycle police, the denizens of the road, are allowed, and in many cases, do "tag" autoists for scooting along at a speed greater than the specified 35 miles an hour.

Municipal speed limits vary as much as day and night, ranging from 10 or 12 miles an hour to 25.

CITY LIMIT RAISED
Besides liberalizing the speed limit on highways, the new Ohio State law, makes the concession of a traveling momentum of 35 miles an hour in residential districts in cities, and a speed limit of 25 miles an hour in congested city areas.

This, according to solons who pleaded for the enactment of it, will alleviate traffic conditions in crowded downtown areas.

It was a game of "give and take" with the state legislators who passed the foregoing law.

After putting their stamp of approval on the speed limit bill, allowing motorists to go faster, they passed another piece of legislation which boosted the gas tax from three to four cents a gallon.

Opinions.

Three members of council favor the purchase of a Seagrave pumper; one favors the Ahrens-Fox pumper; one favors either the Seagrave or Ahrens-Fox machine, and one says the choice is entirely up to the board of control.

These choices were indicated at an informal meeting of council Friday night with the board of control, when the board sought the advice of council concerning the purchase of a new fire engine for the city. Although five companies submitted bids on the new pumper, only the products of the Seagrave Corporation, Columbus; the Ahrens-Fox Fire Engine Co., Cincinnati, and the American LaFrance and Foamite Industries New York, were considered. Each of these companies bid $12,500 on a 750 gallon pumper and $13,000 on a 1,000 gallon pumper.

The majority of the councilmen favored a 1,000 gallon pumper and the majority of them present at the meeting picked the Seagrave machine because of its record and nearness to Circleville in case of emergencies. Two of the councilmen frowned on the Ahrens-Fox bid because of the deal for the old pumper, for which the city will receive only $1 if the corporation's bill for tearing down and storing it is paid.

SELECTION NEXT WEEK
Following the meeting, Mayor E. T. Hedges said that the board will select a pumper either Monday or Tuesday. The other members of the board are Safety Director Cassius Clay and Service Director L. E. Miller.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise, who was present at the meeting, said he favored the purchase of an Ahrens-Fox machine because the old pumper, which was of that make, had given good service for 16 years and that the firemen were familiar with its operation. He said the piston pump of the Ahrens-Fox is more efficient in fire fighting work than the centrifugal pump of the Seagrave or the rotary pump of the American LaFrance. John K. Ahrens, of the Ahrens-Fox Co., made a brief talk on the performance records of his firm's pumper.

Councilman Clark expressed his preference for the Seagrave machine, chiefly because the company's plant is near Circleville, insuring rapid service in the face of emergencies or mishaps. Councilman T. F. Barnes declared that all three pumps under consideration are good, but that the selection of one is the sole responsibility of the board of control. He said he would be satisfied with the board's choice.

Councilman E. S. Neuding said that he had made an investigation into the claims of the various companies and believes that the Ahrens-Fox piston pump is the best all-around duty machine.

TAX ON BANKS IS HELD VOID

Pickaway-Co Institutions May
Be Relieved of Making
Payments.

Five National banks in Pickaway-co are among the more than 300 in Ohio which may be relieved of paying taxes on their shares of capital stock until the legislature amends the state taxation laws as a result of the report of William J. Ford, master commissioner, filed Friday with Federal Judge Benson W. Hough.

Making his report in the case brought by three Columbus banks against the Franklin-co treasurer, Commissioner Ford held illegal and void taxes assessed against shares of those institutions under present state laws.

The First National bank of New Holland, the Farmers' National Bank of Williamsport, and the First, Second and Third national banks of Circleville have not paid any taxes on their capital stock for 1927 and 1928 having enjoined the Pickaway-co treasurer from collecting these taxes until the dispute over their legality is settled. The taxes uncollected on the stock of these banks amounts to approximately $27,000, according to County Auditor Bryce Briggs.

Charles H. Mylander, secretary of the Ohio Bankers' Association, said of the suit:

"The suit does not represent any desire on the part of national banks of Ohio to avoid payment of just and equitable taxes on their shares. The action was brought in a friendly manner in an effort to have determined by the courts whether Ohio taxation laws affecting stock of national banks are in conflict with federal statutes in that other capital in competition with that of the banks is not taxed to the same degree. The master commissioner has held that this conflict exists. If the courts hold with him and the state's tax laws are changed, the national banks will be glad to pay their taxes on such an equitable basis as may be worked out."

FORD GIVES LIFE FOR COP'S DEATH

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 20.—Rodney Ford, of Cincinnati, had paid with his life today for the murder of a policeman.

After frantic last minute efforts to save him had failed, Ford walked calmly to his death in the electric chair at the Ohio State Penitentiary last night, kissing the crucifix as his last act. Efforts to save him included the calling of the governor of Ohio at New London, Conn., asking for a stay. He mumbled his lips in prayer continually while in the death chamber.

Goldie Bowsher Arrested On
Fatal Accident.

Miss Goldie Bowsher, 20, of S. Scioto-st, driver of the Whippet sedan which collided with the Buick touring car of Denny McClarren, Logan-st, at Mill and Court-sts Friday noon, hurling her cousin, Graham Hanninger 24, a S. Court-st barber, to his death, is held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter.

The girl was arrested by Officer William McCrady late Friday afternoon after he had conferred with Prosecutor Emmett L. Crist. It is said statements of several witnesses to the accident declared that Miss Bowsher did not stop her car at Court-st. before starting across the main thoroughfare from Mill-st.

SAYS SHE STOPPED

Shortly after the accident, Miss Bowsher said she had stopped her auto and started across Court-st when she failed to see any car approaching on the main thoroughfare. Hanninger, on the running board of the McClarren car, was hurled to the pavement by the impact and died an hour later at the Home and Hospital from a fractured skull.

The charge of manslaughter against Miss Bowsher was preferred to permit a grand jury investigation of the case. It is part of the city and county authorities campaign to curb reckless driving. Prosecutor Crist said.

FATHER GIVES BOND

Miss Bowsher was arraigned before Mayor B. T. Hedges, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond, which was provided by her father, Charles Bowsher.

Hanninger's body will be sent on the 6:52 o'clock train over the N. & W. railroad Saturday evening by the Albaugh Co., to the home of the mother, Mrs. Maude Krgon, Canton, for funeral services and burial.

Bushel Yields—Threshing, 24 Bushels.

With the threshing of the wheat crop getting well under way Pickaway-co farmers have found that the yield had been quite generally over estimated according to County Agent H. S. Lewis. There is a large crop of straw and according to the twine requirement per acre, the yields were estimated from any place to 30 to 40 bushels.

The actual threshing records show the average yield to be about 20 bushels per acre. In some cases the yield runs as low as 12 to 15 bushels per acre. The quality of the crop varies but is much below that of an average Pickaway-co wheat crop. Threshing records obtained by County Agent Lewis from the elevators and the threshing machines representing 375 acres of wheat showed a total of 9191 bushels or an average of 24 bushels per acre. This survey was made in the north

Pair Arrested In Lancaster In
At Meade.

A girl and a boy are in the Pickaway-co jail facing charges of grand larceny in connection with the theft of $50 from the cash register of Frank McAfee's store at Meade this week. They are Mrs. Catherine Steinmetz, 18, and Harry Guisinger, 16, both of Lancaster, who were arrested by the police of that city.

They were arrested with the girl's husband, Raymond Steinmetz, as suspects in the store robbery. It is charged the register was looted by Guisinger while Mr. and Mrs. Steinmetz kept the attention of the proprietor in the purchase of gasoline for their Studebaker touring car.

A number of new tools, two pairs of trousers and an electric lighter were found in the car by the Lancaster police, who found a large and varied quantity of merchandise in the Steinmetz residence, which was also searched. Some of the merchandise, valued at several hundred dollars, was identified by representatives of three stores in Lancaster.

Steinmetz is held by Fairfield authorities to answer a charge of grand larceny in that county. Mrs. Steinmetz and Guisinger were brought to Circleville by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and Probation Officer Lowell Brown to answer similar charges here in connection with the robbery at Meade. Similar charges have been filed against them at Lancaster and the same charge has been filed against Steinmetz here.

First Degree Murder Trial Scheduled To Start Wednesday at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—(INS)

—Attorneys for Dr. James Howard Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora Hix, will waive the man's constitutional right for a sanity hearing and the first degree murder trial of the admitted co-educational slayer will start in criminal court here Wednesday morning.

Judge Henry L. Scarlett, presiding judge of criminal court, so informed International News Service today.

Scarlett said he had been notified by E. O. Ricketts, defense attorney, that Dr. Snook will waive his right for a sanity hearing.

TRIAL WEDNESDAY

The murder trial will begin Wednesday morning. Judge Scarlett continued, "I have already notified Sheriff Harry T. Paul to notify the prospective jurors for the murder trial to appear at that time."

The jurist declared that attorneys for the confessed killer of his "love-nest" sweetheart, would have to appear in his court Monday morning and withdraw the motion they have already filed, which requests a hearing for the man to determine whether or not Dr. Snook was insane at the time he brutally slew Miss Hix, medical student at the Ohio State university.

Judge Scarlett declared that Ricketts told him the attorneys for the deposed university instructor would follow that line of action.

SANE VERDICT SEEN

The defense's step in abandoning the sanity hearing, is believed to have been influenced by reports that three court alienists had reached a verdict that Dr. Snook was sane on the night of June 13, when he beat Miss Hix's skull 17 times with a hammer and slit her jugular vein, shoulder and abdomen with a pocket knife.

Three court alienists, Dr. Guy H. Williams, of the Cleveland state hospital, Dr. William H. Vorbau, of the Lima State hospital and Dr. Arthur G. Hyde of the Massillon state hospital, examined the man Thursday afternoon.

It has been learned from reliable sources that their report found Dr. Snook sane at the time of the hearing, though the official finding have not as yet been disclosed.

SEYFERT CONFIRMS

The defense also had two alienists employed and the state, the day after Dr. Snook confessed to the crime, engaged three local criminal doctors.

The confessed slayer, who at one time maintained a one room apartment for Miss Hix and himself where they were known as Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, has been examined by eight alienists. M. C. Seyfert, Circleville, another defense attorney, confirmed Judge Scarlett's announcement from his home at Circleville.

DIVORCES GRANTED ON NEGLECT PLEAS

Saturday morning in the common pleas court Judge Joseph W. Adkins granted a divorce to Theodore C. Blackwell, from Ora Blackwell. The cause for divorce was gross neglect of duty. The court also barred the defendant from any interest in the property of the plaintiff. The parties were married Nov. 15, 1922, and have no children.

M. C. Seyfert Jr., represented the plaintiff.

In the divorce case of Leona B. Brown, Circleville, against Herbert B. Brown, Chillicothe Judge Joseph W. Adkins granted the plaintiff a divorce on her petition, accusing the defendant of gross neglect of duty awarded the custody of the two minor children and all personal property to the plaintiff.

M. C. Seyfert Jr., represented the plaintiff and Garrett S. Claypool Chillicothe, represented the defendant.

EAGLE GAME TRANSFERRED TO ASHVILLE

Carnival Prevents Contest Being Played At Mason Field Sunday.

The baseball game that was scheduled to be played here Sunday at Mason's Field between the Circleville Eagles and the strong Mt. Air aggregation has been transferred to Ashville where the game will be played at the Community Park there.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles is sponsoring a big carnival at the ball park here all next week and due to the fact that they will be putting up their tents and stands on Sunday the baseball management was forced to secure another grounds.

They were very fortunate in securing the ball park at Ashville for it is a very good diamond and is so situated that a large crowd can be taken care of. Ashville citizens are all worked up over the arrangement and without a doubt a large crowd will be on hand to see the game which is expected to be a real, hard fought contest.

MUST PLAY OR FORFEIT
At first the local management decided not to play the game. But Ben Ratner, the president of the league, ruled that the contest must be played or forfeited to the Mt. Air club. So rather than lose by the forfeit route, especially when they have a good chance to cop the pennant, the high bosses decided to play the game at Ashville.

The game is regarded as the feature game in the league this Sunday and many Columbus and Mt. Air people are expected to journey to Ashville to see the contest. The Eagles are now in second place and if they win this game and the Francis Dry Cleaners, who are at the top, happen to lose to Grove City, it will put a Birds right up there ready to be the lead. The game is expected to develop into a classy "catchers" battle between Fred Bruck, the ex-American Association veteran who twirls for the "mounts, and Jock Boyd, the Circleville pitching ace.

Boyd has a splendid record winning all but one of the games he has pitched in the league. His team mates are leading the league in hitting and are playing smart heads-up ball behind him. Circleville won a 10-inning game from the Mounts earlier in the season. Mount Air has a strong team. They are old experienced ball players. The game they lost to Ashville some few weeks ago was a close, hard fought affair. It was the only time this year that any team has knocked old Fred Bruck, their star pitcher out of the box. They hold that the Birds were lucky and say that they will never do it again.

The game will be called promptly at 2.30 p. m. and association umpires will be in charge of the indicators.

The Eagles will be back playing at home in Mason's Field again on Sunday, July 28, providing the carnival is all moved out and the field cleaned up and put back in order. The remainder of their games will be played at home and the next team to come here will be the league leading Francis Dry Cleaners.

Wisest Men Have Ever Been Slow of Speech

People are likely to set too much store by "conversation." A very large proportion of it isn't worth two cents. It must be conceded that there is a kind of exhilaration in talking. One can even get tired of it; showing that it has a direct effect on the tempo of the heart and on the nervous system. The popular notion that one must talk "for the sake of relief" is probably correct; because silence once it is learned and practiced gives a greater relief.

Keeping still is an interesting thing to the point of being a relief. It is a delightful, especially when employed to keep out of a furious row under full headway. It is a difficult game, therefore the more inviting to play. One may suffer from the invidious implication that it is timidity instead of good sense that keeps him from participation, but let him remember that many of the wisest men within human knowledge were taciturn—"minded their own business," and we don't know but that the rule of speech at all about as well as the words and impression left by some think better—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. White
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

THAT the business concerns who study the preferences and demands of their community and who advertise constantly in local papers are the concerns who have an ever increasing volume of business.

Quality, up-to-date goods and newspaper advertising are the prime requisites of success.

Women like to read advertisements. In fact, they usually read the ads before they shop in order to know where the best bargains are to be found.

With no time seems to count more. When it comes to shopping they are always in a hurry. They know what they want, look over the ads, find who has what they want, and go right there and buy it and then on their usual business.

People today are busier than ever accomplishing more and having more fun doing it, and advertising more and more. What the service of newspaper advertising is doing is showing them.

Next time advertisements of a variety of things are found, to save money, as everything worth having is. It is a leading business concern knows that in newspaper advertising is essential to success.

HAVE BEEN CONTINUOUS ADVISERS. THEY FORTUNE HAS SMILED ON THOSE CONCERNS WHO HAVE SHOWN AN AMAZING PROGRESS AS A RESULT OF ADVERTISING.

British Postal System Has Many Conveniences

The British post office officials are capable and obliging and if anyone should lose himself he can go to the nearest post office and mail himself home. An express messenger is sometimes given charge of a person and takes him to his destination, where he obtains a receipt. The charges, based upon the distance traveled, are quite moderate. If you merely wish to prove that a letter has been posted there is no need to register it. The post office will supply you with a "certificate of posting" for a cent. If you pass the "last collection of letters and have an urgent communication to send rise up the head post office of the district tell them your plight, and debate the offer. It will be verified and sent off with the night mail. The charge is six cents for the first three words, two cents for every ten afterwards, and the ordinary postage and telephone fee.

SCORES FRIDAY
Pettit Tires 6, Ohio Utilities 5
Circleville Mer 6, L. Brotherhood, 6.

Under a reorganization in which Boone Pettit is manager, replacing Elmer Robinson, and Mark Haswell is captain, replacing Ralph Garner the Pettit Tires walloped the Ohio Utilities by the score of 6 to 5 Friday evening. This now shoves the Utilities out of second place and into third. Both teams fought hard and during the seventh inning all hope lay in the Ohio Utilities favor. In the eighth inning the Tires scored two runs which tied the score. During the 11th inning the Tires scored another run which won the game. It looks as though the Tires have decided to go to work again and when they do, watch'em.

Played eleven inning without a decision the game between the Circleville Merchants and the Lutheran Brotherhood was called on account of darkness, Friday. Both teams worked hard to get a run to end the game but each time the defense team held them. This game will decide who will go to the cellar. It will be played at a later date.

Pictorial Golf Instruction

By H. B. MARTIN

SWEEPING FOLLOW THROUGH INSURES DISTANCE

WHEN we hit a golf ball, the motion or stroke is a sweep or should be a sweep. There should be no attempt to check the club head as it comes through the ball. The club head, almost egg-shaped, this process goes on for the first four inches or so, then it snaps back to square as it gradually releases itself from the club. This is called follow through and is an all important part of golf. If you keep the club head with the ball a long time, the drive will be strangled. This can be managed by sending the club on through with no attempt to check it, nor to pull across the ball.

FREE CORN ROAST

A merchandise shoot and free corn roast will be held by the Circleville Gun club Wednesday afternoon, July 24, at its grounds north of Circleville. There will be eight events of 20 targets each and four prizes will be offered in each event.

"Shorthand"

The origin of brief writing, or "shorthand," is clouded in mystery. No authentic record exists establishing its practical use much before the first century B. C. From that period until about 300 A. D. the art flourished throughout the Roman empire. The secretary and librarian of Cicero, Marcus Tullius Tiro was the pioneer of Roman shorthand. The chief use of shorthand in Roman times was made by the leaders in the church and by government officials. Church dignitaries who made conspicuous use of shorthand were St. Augustine, Origen and St. Jerome. All the Roman emperors employed shorthand secretaries. Several emperors attempted to learn it.

1. SUGGEST WAYS OF GET-TING MEMORY WORK DONE
 IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL?
 There are several ways of getting memory work done. First it may be accomplished by the project method of teaching; a certain number of hymns and scripture
 passages may be chosen for the class to study from the historical and interpretative standpoint and then committed to memory; these may be copied in notebooks and illustrated with pictures.

Memory work may be done as home work, the teacher giving each member of the class typewritten or mimeographed copies;
 opportunities should be given in future class periods for repetition of this assigned task. A certain number of hymns and scripture
 passages may be selected each year by the leader of the department, the memorization of which will entitle the pupil to honors upon his promotion certificates.

One of the best methods of getting memory work done is to make it a part of the general assembly
 service not as a part of the worship period necessarily but as a special training service of the school or department. One general superintendent has the following program:—The general as-

 "A Home Concern"

In a Glasgow church recently a humble Scotch woman told her pastor how much she had been profit by the service of public worship the previous Sunday. Naturally gratified, the minister asked what it was in his sermon that had helped her.
 "Oh, naething," she replied,
 with the usual Scotch frankness,
 "naething particular in text or sermon. But it was like when I hang out a line o' claes; the sun shines

on them and they are bleached. I dinna understand the process, but weel I ken the effect. That's the way I felt when comin' oot o' kirk
 last Sunday."
 The best reason for church attendance is its effect on personal life and living so well voiced by this humble Scotch woman wor-shipper.

sembly and drill period, twenty minutes, the worship service 15 minutes and the lesson period 40 minutes. The session is opened with the singing of a hymn followed by the repetition of a scripture passage, both selected from the memory curriculum; then follows
 the presentation of new memory
 work. With 20 minutes of time and with the aim largely that of appreciation, a new hymn or scripture passage may be presented each week.

The leader needs to give the background and setting of chosen hymns or scripture so as to arouse interest and give a good understanding of what is to be committed. God pictures may be used with the memory work to deepen interest and meaning of the memory work.

 "Thou speakest wisely," quoth Mrs. Church Member, "Yet three, yea four things we do before we go."
 "Three things I can think of,
 but not four," responded Mr.
 Church Member. We must arrange for our flowers to be cared for, our chickens fed, and the mail forwarded, but the fourth eludes
 my mind."

"The fourth is like unto the first three, yet more important than all. Thou shalt dig into thy purse and pay the church pledge,
 that the good name of the church
 be preserved and that it may be now than thou wilt have when thou return."

And it came to pass that Mr.
 Church Member paid his pledge for the summer and the treasurer
 rejoiced, saying, "O, a truth
 there are those who care for the Lord's work and bethink themselves of the Church's expenses which continue in the summer as in the winter."
 And it was so.

Ezekial's Vision of Hope, Ezekial 47:1-12 for Sunday, July 21st.

The destruction of the temple and Jerusalem produced a spirit of hopelessness to the captive Israelites; Ezekial, the prophet met the situation with a vision of hope that centered around a more glorious condition for Israel with a new temple from which will issue a progressive program in which the present and power of God will be revealed with new life and beauty.

Vs. 1, 2. "And he brought me back unto the door of the house;
 and behold waters issued out from under the threshold of the house
 answered; and behold there ran out waters on the right side." It is significant that the water of the vision originates in the house of God from its altars, streams of reform, benevolence and philanthropies flow from the Christian church; blessings, temporal and spiritual in great abundance have come to the world from the church.

Vs. 3-5. "When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand he measured a thousand cub-
 its and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. Afterward
 he measured a thousand; and it was a river I could not pass
 through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through."
 Good things grow; God's kingdom moves forward, the stream of salvation is ever deepening and widening. The humble beginning made by Israel is to grow into a religious movement flooding the world with pure spiritual ideas.
 The stream that issued from that rocky ledge at Bethlehem is now a mighty river reaching to the ends of the earth. Individual religious experience is deepened and enriched as progress is made in devotion and faithful service affording a channel for the eternal water of life.

V. 6. "And he said unto me,
 son of man, hast thou seen this?
 Then he brought me and caused me to return to the bank of the river. "The angel with the measuring line inquires whether the prophet sees the promise of increasing power and influence for the Jewish religion, for the kingdom of God. In physical changes it is possible to find a message of God. That the prophet may see God's message, he is called upon to wait, to thoroughly see and know all that has transpired in the onward movement of the river.

V. 7. "Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other." Verse 12 gives a full account of these

1. SUGGEST WAYS OF GETTING MEMORY WORK DONE IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL? There are several ways of getting memory work done. First it may be accomplished by the project method of teaching; a certain number of hymns and scripture passages may be chosen for the class to study from the historical and interpretative standpoint and then committed to memory; these may be copied in notebooks and illustrated with pictures.

Memory work may be done as home work, the teacher giving each member of the class type-written or mimeographed copies; opportunities should be given in future class periods for repetition of this assigned task. A certain number of hymns and scripture passages may be selected each year by the leader of the department, the memorization of which will entitle the pupil to honors upon his promotion certificates.

One of the best methods of getting memory work done is to make it a part of the general assembly service not as a part of the worship period necessarily but as a special training service of the school or department. One general superintendent has the following program:—The general assembly and drill period, twenty minutes, the worship service 15 minutes and the lesson period 40 minutes. The session is opened with the singing of a hymn followed by the repetition of a scripture passage, both selected from the memory curriculum; then follows the presentation of new memory work. With 20 minutes of time and with the aim largely that of appreciation, a new hymn or scripture passage may be presented each week.

The leader needs to give the background and setting of chosen hymns or scripture so as to arouse interest and give a good understanding of what is to be committed. God pictures may be used with the memory work to deepen interest and meaning of the memory work.

"A Home Concern"

In a Glasgow church recently a humble Scotch woman told her pastor how much she had been profited by the service of public worship the previous Sunday. Naturally gratified, the minister asked what it was in his sermon that had helped her.
"Oh, naething," she replied, with the usual Scotch frankness, "nothing particular in text or sermon. But it was like when I hang out a line o' claes; the sun shines on them and they are bleached. I dinna understand the process, but weel I ken the effect. That's the way I felt when comin' out o' kirk last Sunday."

The best reason for church attendance is its effect on personal life and living so well voiced by this humble Scotch woman worshipper.

"Thou speakest wisely," quoth Mrs. Church Member, "Yet three, yea four things we do before we go."

"Three things I can think of, but not four," responded Mr. Church Member. We must arrange for our flowers to be cared for, our chickens fed, and the mail forwarded, but the fourth eludes my mind."

"The fourth is like unto the first three, yet more important than all. Thou shalt dig into thy purse and pay the church pledge, that the good name of the church be preserved and that it may be now than thou wilt have when thou return."

And it came to pass that Mr. Church Member paid his pledge for the summer and the treasurer rejoiced, saying, "O! a truth there are those who care for the Lord's work and bethink themselves of the Church's expenses which continue in the summer as in the winter."

And it was so. —Selected

Creamed Comments On S.S. Lesson

Ezekiel's Vision of Hope, Ezekiel 47:1-12 for Sunday, July 21st.

The destruction of the temple and Jerusalem produced a spirit of hopelessness to the captive Israelites; Ezekiel, the prophet met the situation with a vision of hope that centered around a more glorious condition for Israel with a new temple from which will issue a progressive program in which the present and power of God will be revealed with new life and beauty.

Vs. 1, 2. "And he brought me back unto the door of the house; and behold waters issued out from under the threshold of the house answered; and behold there ran out waters on the right side." It is significant that the water of the vision originates in the house of God from its altar, streams of reform, benevolence and philanthropies flow from the Christian church; blessings, temporal and spiritual in great abundance have come to the world from the church.

Vs. 3-5. "When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand he measured a thousand cubits and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through." Good things grow; God's kingdom moves forward, the stream of salvation is ever deepening and widening. The humble beginning made by Israel is to grow into a religious movement flooding the world with pure spiritual ideas. The stream that issued from that rocky ledge at Bethlehem is now a mighty river reaching to the ends of the earth. Individual religious experience is deepened and enriched as progress is made in devotion and faithful service affording a channel for the eternal water of life.

V. 6. "And he said unto me, son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me and caused me to return to the bank of the river. The angel with the measuring line inquires whether the prophet sees the promise of increasing power and influence for the Jewish religion, for the kingdom of God. In physical changes it is possible to find a message of God. That the prophet may see God's message, he is called upon to wait, to thoroughly see and know all that has transpired in the onward movement of the river.

V. 7. "Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other." Verse 12 gives a full account of these trees, "Every tree for food, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fall; it shall bring forth fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for food and the leaf thereof for healing." Religion has its delights, but also its practical uses. The Christian gospel upholds, nourishes, sustains in weakness, gives power for useful service.

V. 8. "Then he said to me, these waters issue forth to the eastward region, and shall go down to Arabia; and they shall go toward the sea and the waters shall be healed." This river did not seek to course through pleasant fruitful fields or flower gardens but into the basin of the Dead Sea where all was desolate and dead; there was something in this stream that sweetened the poisonous waters.

V. 9. "And it shall come to pass that every living creature which swimeth in every place whither the river comes shall live." Here is a beautiful suggestion of immortality. God is always on the side of life. Jesus came into the world that we might have life and have it more abundantly.

EAGLE GAME TRANSFERRED TO ASHVILLE

The baseball game that was scheduled to be played here Sunday at Mason's Field between the Circleville Eagles and the strong Mt. Air aggregation has been transferred to Ashville where the game will be played at the Community Park there.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles is sponsoring a big carnival at the ball park here all next week and due to the fact that they will be putting up their tents and stands on Sunday the baseball management was forced to secure another grounds.

They were very fortunate in securing the ball park at Ashville for it is a very good diamond and is so situated that a large crowd can be taken care of. Ashville citizens are all worked up over the arrangement and without a doubt a large crowd will be on hand to see the game which is expected to be a real, hard fought contest.

MUST PLAY OR FORFEIT

At first the local management decided not to play the game. But Ben Ratner, the president of the league, ruled that the contest must be played or forfeited to the Mt. Air club. So rather than lose by the forfeit route, especially when they have a good chance to cop the pennant, the high bosses decided to play the game at Ashville.

The game is regarded as the feature game in the league this Sunday and many Columbus and Mt. Air people are expected to journey to Ashville to see the contest. The Eagles are now in second place and if they win this game and the Francis Dry Cleaners, who are at the top, happen to lose to Grove City, it will put the Birds right up there ready to be the lead. The game is expected to develop into a classy "pitchers' battle" between Fred Bruck, the ex-American Association veteran who twirls for the "hunts, and Jack Boyd, the Circleville pitching ace.

Boyd has a splendid record, winning all but one of the games he has pitched in the league. His team mates are leading the league in hitting and are playing smart heads-up ball behind him. Circleville won a 10-inning game from the Mounts earlier in the season. Mount Air has a strong team. They are old experienced ball players. The game they lost to Circleville some few weeks ago was a close, hard fought affair.

It was the only time this year that any team has knocked out Fred Bruck, their star pitcher out of the box. They hold that they will never do it again.

The game will be called promptly at 2:30 p. m. and association umpires will be in charge of the indicators.

The Eagles will be back playing at home in Mason's Field again on Sunday, July 28, providing the carnival is all moved out and the field cleaned up and put back in order. The remainder of their games will be played at home and the next team to come here will be the league leading Francis Dry Cleaners.

People are likely to set too much store by "conversation." A very large proportion of it isn't worth two cents. It must be conceded that there is a kind of exhilaration in talking. One can even get head ache by it; showing that it has a direct offset on the tempo of the heart and on the nervous system. The popular notion that one must talk "for the sake of relief" is probably bogus; because silence, once it is learned and practiced gives a greater relief.

Keeping still is an interesting thing, to the point of being times, delightful; especially when employed to keep out of a furious row under full headway. It is a difficult game, therefore the more inviting to play. One may suffer from the invidious implication that it is stupidity instead of good sense that keeps him from participation, but let him remember that many of the wisest men within human knowledge were taciturn—"minded their own business"—and we don't know but that the glow of speech get along about as well as the wordy and impassionate; some think, better.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat

BRITISH POSTAL SYSTEM

Has Many Conveniences

The British post office officials are capable and obliging and if anyone should lose himself, he can go to the nearest post office and mail himself home. An express messenger is sometimes given charge of a person and takes him to his destination, where he obtains a receipt. The charges, based upon the distance traveled, are quite moderate. If you merely wish to prove that a letter has been posted, there is no need to register it. The post office will supply you with a "certificate of posting" for a cent. If you miss the last collection of letters and have an urgent communication to send, ring up the head post office of the district, tell them your plight, and dictate the letter. It will be written out and sent off with the night mail. The charge is six cents for the first thirty words, two cents for every ten afterward, and the ordinary postage and telephone fee.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. White, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

THAT the business concerns who study the preferences and demands of their community and who advertise consistently in local papers are the concerns who have an ever increasing volume of business.

With men, time seems to count more. When it comes to shopping they are always in a hurry. They know what they want, look over the ads, find who has what they want, go right there, buy it, and then on their usual business.

People today are busier than ever, accomplishing more and having more fun doing it, and appreciating more and more what the service of newspaper advertising is doing for them.

Newspaper advertisements offer every citizen an opportunity to save money, as everything worth having is advertised. Leading business concerns know that newspaper advertising is essential to success.

HAVE BEEN CONTINUOUS ADVERTISERS. THEY FORTUNE HAS SMILED ON THOSE CONCERNS WHO HAVE SHOWN AN AMAZING PROGRESS AS A RESULT OF ADVERTISING.

Under a reorganization in which Boone Pettit is manager, replacing Elmer Robinson, and Mark Haswell is captain, replacing Ralph Garner, the Pettit Tires walloped the Ohio Utilities by the score of 6 to 5, Friday evening. This now shoves the Utilities out of second place and into third. Both teams fought hard and during the seventh inning all hope lay in the Ohio Utilities favor. In the eighth inning the Tires scored two runs which tied the score. During the 11th inning the Tires scored another run which won the game. It looks as though the Tires have decided to go to work again and when they do, watch'em.

Played eleven inning without a decision, the game between the Circleville Merchants and the Lutheran Brotherhood was called on account of darkness, Friday. Both teams worked hard to get a run to end the game but each time the defense team held them. This game will decide who will go to the cellar. It will be played at a later date.

SWEEPING FOLLOW THROUGH

INSURES DISTANCE

WHEN we hit a golf ball, the motion or stroke is a sweep, or should be a sweep. There should be no attempt to check the club head as it comes through. The ball being of rubber flattens out on the club head, almost egg-shaped. This process goes on for the first four inches or so, then it snaps back to shape as it gradually releases itself from the club. This is called follow through and is an all-important part of golf.

If you keep the club head with the ball a long time, the drive will be straighter. This can be managed by sending the club on through with no attempt to check it, nor to pull across the ball.

FREE CORN ROAST

A merchandise shoot and free corn roast will be held by the Circleville Gun club Wednesday afternoon, July 24, at its grounds north of Circleville. There will be eight events of 20 targets each and four prizes will be offered in each event.

"Shorthand"

The origin of brief writing, or "shorthand," is clouded in mystery. No authentic record exists establishing its practical use much before the First century B. C. From that period until about 300 A. D. the art flourished throughout the Roman empire. The secretary and librarian of Cicero, Marcus Tullius Tiro, was the pioneer of Roman shorthand. The chief use of shorthand in Roman times was made by the leaders in the church and by government officials. Church dignitaries who made conspicuous use of shorthand were St. Augustine, Origen and St. Jerome. All the Roman emperors employed shorthand secretaries. Several emperors attempted to learn it.

Disappearing Gulf

However slow and imperceptible the process may be, it is a well-established fact that the contour of the earth is changing constantly. Sea captains frequently note the presence of islands in mid-ocean where no islands were ever seen before and just as often note is made of the total disappearance of points of land in the sea. The peninsula of Lower California, in the western part of Mexico, is, as most persons know, a long tongue of land following the coast line and forming the elongated Gulf of California. Recent observations show that the land of Lower California is rising, and accordingly increasing in width and at the same time the gulf is narrowing so that in the course of time the land of the peninsula may be joined to the mainland of Mexico and water now separating them will disappear entirely.

Wood for Lead Pencils

The forest service says that the red cedar, from which lead pencils are made, grows all through the eastern part of the country. The lead pencils are made from the heart wood, and probably the trees suitable for this purpose are about fifty years old.

WHAT YOU GET

Is Even More Important Than What You Pay

Motor car value isn't determined by what you pay for your car... it's what you get in return for your money that's important.

That's why thousands of motorists are turning to Oldsmobile from all price groups—both above and below Oldsmobile's price range.

Those who have owned lower-priced cars gain, in Oldsmobile, performance, luxury, and riding qualities which far outweigh the slight additional cost.

Those who have been accustomed to more expensive cars find that Oldsmobile gives them all the fine car advantages they demand—and at decided savings in both original cost and operating expense.

Those who have been driving cars in Oldsmobile's price field discover that the same amount of money invested in Oldsmobile buys a far more satisfactory automobile—from the standpoint of day-in-and-day-out dependability as well as in beauty, comfort, and performance.

Oldsmobile is powered by a big 62-horsepower high-compression engine which delivers speed to fulfill every desire, remarkably swift acceleration, and power to carry out the heaviest assignment. In addition to fine performance, Oldsmobile provides the style and comfort advantages of Bodies by Fisher, with spacious interiors, deep-cushioned seats, and luxurious upholstery and appointments. Further, Oldsmobile's standard equipment includes such items as four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, full-length vertical radiator shutters, and gasoline and temperature gauges on the dash.

Investigate Oldsmobile yourself—remembering that what you get is even more important than what you pay. Drive an Oldsmobile Six and compare it, point by point, with cars of all prices. Judged by dollar-for-dollar value, you won't find a more profitable investment than Oldsmobile—the fine car of low price.

EVOLUTION OF THE DOCTOR

"What becomes of all the doctors?" is an expression that in recent years has become quite as common as the query, "What becomes of all the pins?"

Year after year a cry for medical help comes from many rural communities, because of a real scarcity of physicians. The old-time country doctor whose faithful old Dobbin drew the buggy or the cutter into remote and isolated places at all times of the night and under all climatic conditions, and who was ever ready to respond to the call of the suffering, has vanished completely. In his place is the physician whose office and visiting hours are short and rigidly observed and who discourages night calls, frequently refusing to respond to them.

It is a mistake to assume from the paucity of rural doctors that the profession is less popular with young Americans and that matriculations in medical schools are falling off. The fact is that there are more medical schools and students than ever, the eighty medical schools in the country having an enrollment of 18,690 men and 964 women this year.

The shortage of doctors is felt only in rural sections. In the cities there is a surplus, if anything. Apparently men and women hanging out their medical shingles today consider the city a better and more profitable field.

There is another trend that is drawing doctors away from sparsely settled sections. It is the trend toward specialization in medicine. A large percentage of those leaving medical schools each year will specialize in some branch of the science instead of entering the general practice of medicine. The reasons why the specialist cannot establish himself in the rural community are obvious.

THE YANKEE ABROAD

British merchants are complaining that although more Americans than ever before are visiting the British Isles, the increase is due to lower rates on cabin steamers and these travelers do not spend much money in the shops. They pay a lump sum, which includes all necessary items, for their trip, and some of them, according to the watchful complainants, bring no more than $10 extra for emergencies.

Maybe these things are true. Certainly the steamship companies and the travel agencies have been selling plenty of trips to students, teachers and people in other walks of life who have a large curiosity but not much money. Many such persons have shied for years to afford the trip. And these are the sort of people who are intelligent enough to make good use of their opportunities.

The constant complaint of Europe is that she is not understood by America. These economical travelers are trying to understand her. Most of them have read and studied about the countries they visit; they go to get first-hand impressions.

And it is also a fact that the big, expensive hotels of London and Paris are crowded with richer Americans. When they spend their hundreds of thousands for European art treasures, there is also a great howl. First thing we know we shall have the impression that Europeans don't like us now.

ADVANCES IN CIVIL LIBERTY

In its report for 1928-29, the American Civil Liberties Union notes a number of encouraging developments. Among them are:

1. Fewer lynchings.
2. Only one case of mob violence.
3. Decrease in alien deportations.
4. General disposition to uphold academic freedom.
5. Freeing of virtually all political prisoners.

These are encouraging gains which will be applauded by liberals throughout the world. Quite evidently, post-war America has learned a sound lesson in the value of tolerance and in the worth of humanitarian rights.

Gaudy Uniforms

The crew of Stephen Decatur's ship, the Macedonia, in 1813, wore a uniform composed of blue jacket, scarlet waistcoat and straw hat. Sailors of those days who circumnavigated the globe wore hats of light, lacquered bamboo from China or East Indies as a mark of their travels.

SOUTH AMERICA BREATHE EASY

Settlement of Tacna Dispute Ends Fifty-Year War Threat.

Santiago, Chile.—The announcement of the settlement of the long standing boundary dispute over Tacna and Arica, often called the Alsace-Lorraine of South America, ends a 50-year threat of war that many times has imperiled the peace of South America.

The dispute had its beginning in the war of the Pacific, or the nitrate war, as it is more latterly called, which began in 1879 when Chile invaded the Bolivian province of Atacama on the pretext of broken treaty rights.

Prior to this war much Chilean capital was invested in the nitrate plants of Atacama, but Chile never vigorously pressed its doubtful claim to the province as long as Bolivia did not attempt to tax Chilean capital invested there.

Whether, as charged by Chile, for the purpose of inciting war or for revenue, Bolivia broke its treaty with Chile and began taxing Chilean nitrate interests, without waiting to declare war Chile seized the city of Antofagasta.

Chile Wins. Two weeks later Bolivia formally declared war and called upon Peru to assist her. The Chileans charge that Bolivia and Peru had an offensive and defensive treaty against Chile. The war ended in 1883 when Chilean troops seized the city of Lima.

The treaty of Ancon was signed in 1883. Bolivia handed over to Chile the province of Atacama, and thereby lost its entire seaboard and a world monopoly of nitrate of soda. Peru ceded the province of Tarapaca and handed over Tacna and Arica for ten years, when a plebiscite was to have been held.

The plebiscite was never held, as the Peruvians will explain, because Chile feared she would not win, and, as the Chileans will explain, because Peru believed she would lose.

The fact of the matter is, the plebiscite was never held for the very good reason that Chile fought two nations in 1879 to obtain the province, and as long as the veterans of that war dominated the politics of the nation she stood ready every minute to fight again to hold it.

Matter of History. Like the veterans of the American Civil war, the veterans have now passed from the political picture, and for several years Tacna and Arica has been only a matter of the history books for the present generation of Chileans. Thus it was that the way was paved for the announcement of the present settlement.

In recent years the disputed province has been a convenient tool for politicians. If President Leguia became involved in international dissension he had only to raise the question of Tacna and Arica to divert public attention.

Likewise, in Chile, when the army was going to revolt in 1920 the politicians raised the cry of war with Peru and rushed 20,000 soldiers to the northern frontier to defend the nation against a mythical army of their own fabrication.

Although Bolivia was left out in the cold in the present settlement, there is no doubt that she has not given up her hopes for an outlet to the sea, and many persons believe that Peru will sell her share of the settlement to Bolivia after the completion of the port. The province is worth little or nothing to Peru, outside of the honor involved.

By the treaty of 1903 Bolivia waived all claims against Chile upon the latter's promise to build the Arica-La Paz railroad and upon the payment of a large indemnity. This treaty was definitely discharged last year when Chile turned over the Bolivian section of the railroad to Bolivia.

While it is pointed out in some quarters here that the United States and Great Britain could never have afforded to permit Chile and Peru to go to war, all South America has breathed a sigh of relief over the settlement, because the province was long a potential tinder box of an all South American conflagration.

Hay Drying Invention

Would Surpass Nature

Geneseo, Wis.—Arthur W. Koon has nearly completed work here on an invention with which he expects to shorten the normal period of time required to dry hay.

Koon's machine, which is 200 feet long and 50 feet high to accommodate large quantities of hay, is expected to complete the two minutes nature several weeks. Aside from additional speed in drying the hay the new device is said to retain the original green color in the forage.

He's Wed All Right,

But Who's His Wife?

Memphis, Tenn.—Matrimonial problems of Lloyd P. Powell have "stumped" Memphis courts.

According to Powell, he was sentenced to prison for bigamy when he was not a bigamist. He is legally married to his second wife, although he is not lawfully divorced from his first, and can't have his second marriage annulled until his first divorce decree is set aside, and if set aside he becomes a bigamist.

War's First Victim?

It is believed that the first boat sunk in the World war was the San Wilfrido, a British ship sunk by a mine, August 3, 1914.

SUMMER VACATIONISTS

CHAPTER LXII.

SHE ripped open the last envelope. It contained a little wad of pencilled memos, all covered with neat figures. Something about the money at last. That would please Mr. Greely. Just her luck that she left it for the last.

She copied two slips, neatly and accurately before their full significance dawned on her. Why, these were records of money turned over to Ralph, records of money Allan had drawn from the bank for him—fifty dollars, five hundred, two thousand.

Her fingers flew through the pile. Hundreds, thousands of dollars. But if Ralph had this money, how could he say that Allan . . . that Allan took it? Her pulses began to race. Her breath came in painful, panting gusts. Her face was crimson. Ralph must have known . . . all along . . . he must have betrayed Allan to save himself.

She began to cry softly then, like a child who has stumbled upon some dread secret in the dark. . . "What will happen now? What will they do when they find out?" Her teeth were chattering so that she could hardly talk when, with her back to the wall, and her eyes still glued on the mute slips on the desk, she got Mr. Greely's house, and asked for him.

Henry answered, in the high, nasal tone he had adopted years ago to discourage hysterical women who demanded to speak to the Master. "No, he isn't in. . . I couldn't say . . . probably not until late."

Daphne hung up the receiver, still crying weakly. She couldn't stay there. . . she couldn't wait for Mr. Greely to come back. . . She thought of Allan. . . a fugitive in the eyes of the law. . . Ralph even called him a failed. . . when he knew, he knew that Allan was innocent! He boasted, even last night, of all he had done for Allan, when all the while he had done this thing to him, this terrible thing. . .

Daphne had never been in Ralph McKevitt's apartment though she had passed it often enough, on her solitary walks. She never knew just how she got there now, or why she had come, except that she had to come, she had to tell him.

When she had rung a long time his sleepy voice answered—"Well—who is it?" "It's I—Daphne—You must let me come up—I've got to see you!" "Daphne!—For heaven's sake—well—wait a minute—I'll be down and let you in."

It was the usual furnished flat, the kind the agent advertises as "elegant furnished." Fat, overstuffed chairs, a heavy Chesterfield backed up against a long table with a lamp at one end, and a flower bowl without any flowers in it, at the other. Bridge lamps and occasional tables, and a general air of nobody home. Ralph McKevitt, for that matter, was seldom home. He was home today because he was trying to sleep off the effects of last night's party.

He looked at Daphne now with eyes that were at once drowsy and suspicious. "Well, sit down," he said, not too graciously, "now that you're here you may as well be comfortable. Excuse the setup—"

with an apologetic wave towards his dressing gown. "I drowned my sorrows after you left me last night, and I'm a little under the weather still."

He noticed she was swaying a little, that her small face was colorless except for her reddened nose and swollen eyes, and she kept clapping and unclapping her hands. Plainly she was hysterical. She'd have to be—timid, goody-good Daphne, before she'd burst in on him like that!

He said as lightly as he could, and went and stood by her chair, hands in his pockets. She shuddered, and something pathetically childish about the curve of her bent white neck, and the soft dark hair above it, touched him. "He patted her shoulder. "Come now, Daphne, don't be babyish. Haven't we always been pretty good friends? Did you decide you love me a little—was that it?"

She Sprang Up Then and Faced Him, Ablaze With Fury.

Have something to drink? Just a little drink?" She shook her head, and watched him with eyes heavy with tears, while he poured himself a drink, and swallowed it with a mumbled, "Here's to crime!"

"Here's to crime!" How could he joke about such a thing? How could he joke about anything? Didn't he care? Wasn't it anything to him that Allan—his best friend—was suffering, disgraced—while he went free? Daphne's lip curled in disgust. She groped for her handkerchief, and pressed it nervously to her mouth, suddenly terribly afraid that she was going to be sick. Her hands were so cold and clammy, and her head was so hot.

And all the while Ralph McKevitt watched her, curiosity and a mounting, nameless fear chasing faintly, dispirited face. . . What ailed the girl? Had she come to upbraid him about Crystal? What had she found out? "But there isn't anything to find out!" he thought, with satisfaction. "Nobody could say a thing against us. . . Well, what did you have to see?"

Deserves Nickname Yokohama is called the "eye of Japan" because it is one of the principal ports and because it has a commanding position on a V-shaped plain extending into the sea.

WOMANHOOD'S SCREEN EPIC

"She Goes To War" Opens Sunday For Three Days At Cliftona.

In "She goes to War!" which comes to the Cliftona theater, starting Sunday, practically eighty per cent of the civilized world is represented in the conflict either on the firing line, behind the lines, or at home where just as much if not more was being accomplished—to keep the home fires burning.

Says a reviewer: "American England, France, Germany, Russia, Italy and other nations represented during the war with their native daughters living in the United States or at home" will see revealed on the screen the part they played in that giant conflict.

"And while it has been cited as a war story, the fact remains that we have in this production a story so engrossing and so different that it became an inspiration to develop it on the screen.

"The women's story of the war is our story and will be told by women for women."

The cast includes Eleanor Boardman who enacts the stellar role in the production, John Holland, new to the screen and a discovery of Mr. King; Al St. John, Edmund Burns and a score of other notable film players.

"THE DESERT RIDER"

Edward Connelly, grand old man of many successful films, will be heartily welcomed by his host of admirers in his most recent role in Tim McCoy's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring picture, "The Desert Rider," which comes Sunday and Monday to the Met theater. Born in New York City he began his stage career in a repertoire stock company in Kansas City in 1885. He appeared with such artists as Fritz Scheff, Nazimova and others before he entered pictures. He has been seen recently in "Brown of Harvard," "The Student Prince," "Sinners in Silk," "The Show," "In Old Kentucky" and other hits.

Resent Whites' Coriacity

The tribesmen of Africa know that the white persons they come in contact with view their rituals and ceremonies with curiosity at best. They are not duly impressed with significance, and for this reason, the tribesmen of Africa are not to be surprised if they find themselves the subjects of some of the most curious and unorthodox of the white man's customs.

Settlement of Tacna Dispute Ends Fifty-Year War Threat.

Santiago, Chile.—The announcement of the settlement of the long standing boundary dispute over Tacna and Arica, often called the Alsace-Lorraine of South America, ends a 50-year threat of war that many times has imperiled the peace of South America.

The dispute had its beginning in the war of the Pacific, or the nitrate war, as it is more latterly called, which began in 1879 when Chile invaded the Bolivian province of Atacama on the pretext of broken treaty rights.

Prior to this war much Chilean capital was invested in the nitrate plants of Atacama, but Chile never vigorously pressed its doubtful claim to the province as long as Bolivia did not attempt to tax Chilean capital invested there.

Hay Drying Invention Would Surpass Nature

Geneseo, Wis.—Arthur W. Koen has nearly completed work here on his invention with which he expects to shorten the normal period of time required to dry hay.

Koen's machine, which is 200 feet long and 30 feet high to accommodate large quantities of hay, is expected to complete in two minutes the hay drying process that takes nature several weeks. Aside from additional speed in drying the hay the new device is said to retain the original green color in the foliage.

A young man, Powell, was sentenced to prison for a year when he was not a married man. He is legally married to a second wife, although he is not lawfully divorced from his first, and can't have his second marriage annulled until his first divorce is granted. He is now a married man, and if it is true he has a first wife, he is a bigamist.

Ward's First Victim?

It is believed that the first boat sunk in the World War was the San Wilfrido, a British ship sunk by a mine, August 3, 1914.

CHAPTER LXII.

SHE ripped open the last envelope. It contained a little wad of pencilled memos, all covered with neat figures. Something about the money at last. That would please Mr. Greely. Just her luck that she left it for the last.

She copied two slips, neatly and accurately before their full significance dawned on her. Why, these were records of money turned over to Ralph, records of money Allan had drawn from the bank for him—fifty dollars, five hundred, two thousand.

Her fingers flew through the pile. Hundreds, thousands of dollars. But if Ralph had this money, how could he say that Allan—

She began to cry softly then, like a child who has stumbled upon some dread secret in the dark. "What will happen now? What will they do when they find out?"

Her teeth were chattering so that she could hardly talk when, with her back to the wall and her eyes still glued on the memo slips on the desk, she got Mr. Greely's house, and asked for him.

Daphne hung up the receiver, still crying weakly. She couldn't stay there... she couldn't wait for Mr. Greely to come back... She thought of Allan... a fugitive in the eyes of the law... Ralph even called him—

When she had rung a long time, his sleepy voice answered: "Who is it?"

"It's I—Daphne. You must let me come up—the gate to the garage."

"Daphne? For Heaven's sake, well wait a minute—I'll be down and let you in."

It was the usual formula for the kind of servant who was "legally furnished." But over-stuffed chairs, a heavy Chippendale backed up against a wall, a field lamp at one end, and a flower bowl without any flowers in it, at the other. Brassy lamps and occasional table, and a general air of a show house.

McKevitt, for that matter, was a show house. He was a show house because he was a show house. He was a show house because he was a show house.

night, and I'm a little under the weather still."

He noticed she was swaying a little, that her small face was colorless except for her reddened nose and swollen eyelids, and she kept clapping and unclapping her hands. Plainly she was hysterical. She'd have to be—himself, good Daphne, before she'd burst in on him like that!

me about? It must be important," he said as lightly as he could, and went and stood by her chair, hands in his pockets.

She shuddered, and something pathetically childish about the curve of her bent white neck, and the soft dark hair above it, touched him. He put his hand on her shoulder.

"Come now, Daphne, don't be childish. Haven't we always been pretty good friends? Did you decide you love me a little—was that it?"

She sprang up then and faced him, ablaze with fury.

Have something to drink? Just a little drink.

She took her hand and watched him with eyes as black as hers, while he poured himself a drink and swallowed it with a manly gulp.

"How could I?" How could he be so sure of it? How could he be so sure of it? How could he be so sure of it?

And all the while Ralph McKevitt was sitting there, waiting for her to come back.

He looked at Daphne now with eyes that were not steady and suspicious. "Well, if you're not too good to tell me, you're not too good to tell me, you're not too good to tell me."

with an apologetic smile, and his dressings were of the latest fashion.

Beautiful Custom

The Daughters of 1812 have a beautiful custom of paying tribute to members deceased during the year at the national convention. As a short eulogy is given, a page places a flower in a star for each name on the list.

"She Goes To War" Opens Sunday For Three Days At Cliftona.

In "She goes to War!" which comes to the Cliftona theater, starting Sunday, practically eighty per cent of the civilized world is represented in the conflict either on the firing line, behind the lines, or at home where just as much if not more was being accomplished to keep the home fires burning.

Says a reviewer: "American England, France, Germany, Russia, Italy and other nations represented during the war with their native daughters living in the United States or at home" will see revealed on the screen the part they played in that giant conflict.

"And while it has been cited as a war story, the fact remains that we have in this production a story so engrossing and so different that it became an inspiration to develop it on the screen.

The cast includes Eleanor Boardman who enacts the stellar role in the production, John Holland, new to the screen and a discovery of Mr. King; Al St. John, Edmund Burns and a score of other notable film players.

"THE DESERT RIDER"

Edward Connolly, grand old man of many successful films, will be heartily welcomed by his host of admirers in his most recent role in Tim McCoy's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring picture, "The Desert Rider," which comes Sunday and Monday to the Met theater. Born in New York City he began his stage career in a repertoire stock company in Kansas City in 1885. He appeared with such artists as Frizzi Scheff, Nazimova and others before he entered pictures. He has been seen recently in "Brown of Harvard," "The Student Prince," "Sinners in Silk," "The Show," "In Old Kentucky" and other hits.

Resent Whites' Curiosity

The natives of Africa know that the white persons they come in contact with view them with curiosity and sometimes with hostility. They are not duly impressed with the significance, and for this reason impenetrable veil of secrecy surrounds most of these customs according to a returned traveler many months in Africa, hoping to learn something of the authoritative nature about the customs.

Hope that war between Soviet Russia and China will be averted
by "peace steps" undertaken in concert by the United States, England and France, has been greatly strengthened during the past 24 hours, according to prevailing belief in Washington, Paris and London, today.

Official denial was issued in Moscow of the unconfirmed press report that Soviet troops had crossed the Manchurian frontier and seized the Manchurian towns of Manchuli and Pogranichnaya.

According to the latest cable
and radio dispatches to International News Service, powerful Soviet and Chinese armies have been massed along the Siberian-Manchurian frontiers, but there has been no fighting at any point.

Soviet airmen in military planes are patrolling long stretches of the Manchurian border.

It is reported by International News Service that many civilians have fled from sections of western and northern Manchuria where troop movements have indicated the possibility of future fighting.

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon of Wednesday, the 14th day of August, 1929, for the purchase of bonds of the said city in the aggregate sum of $13,000.00 dated June 1st, 1929.

Said bonds shall be 26 in number and numbered from 1 to 26, both inclusive. Each of said bonds shall be in the denomination of $500.00
and all of said bonds will draw interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of April and on the first day of October of each year until the principal sum is paid.

The interest coupons to be attached to said bonds, said bonds will be due and payable as follows:
Bonds Nos. 1, 2 and 3 for $500.00
each October 1st, 1930.
Bonds Nos. 4, 5 and 6 for $500.00

each October 1st, 1937.
Bonds Nos. 25 and 26 for $500.00
each October 1st, 1937.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of raising funds to defray the costs of the purchase of a new fire truck and motor pumper and equipment therefor for use in the fire department of the city of Circleville.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than par
and accrued interest, but bids will be received for such bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore fixed.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross
amount of bid and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check, payable to the treasurer of said
city for 5 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds
as may be issued as above set forth, within ten days from the time of award, said check to be returned by said city if said condition is not fulfilled.

The City of Circleville reserves
the right to reject any and all bids.
Bids shall be sealed and endorsed

CONTENTED MIND A FACTOR IN HEALTH

Cranky Spells Are Inexcusable, Says Authority—Be Cheerful and Your Health and Work will Benefit and You'll Add Years to Your Life.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

CHEERFULNESS is a cause and an effect. It promotes good digestion, ease of labor and contentment of mind. It is a habit which should be cultivated.

Success in business, a gratified appetite and freedom from pain are effected by cheerfulness and joy. There can be no doubt that happiness and contentment of mind are real factors in life.

Some folks are miserable and cranky on "Blue Monday." They have formed the habit of "blowing off steam" on Monday. They clean house with their tempers on Monday.

This is a bad habit. It is an unnecessary habit. It is an inexcusable habit.

I look with pity upon a man who has every body in a ferment of misery, because he chooses to vent his feelings on his associates. A business man who growls at his clerks all through the first half of the day, is equalled in manners only by the clerk who "snaps the head off" the customer.

Why give way to such emotions? It shows
as little character as to yield to the temptation to steal, or to commit some other crime of impulse.

I confess I feel more or less hypocritical in preaching a doctrine which I do not practice fully. At least, however, I can admit that I know better and that I am ashamed after I have yielded to the bad habit of depression, crustiness, or open ugliness of spirit and action.

Such habits undermine the health. They produce indigestion, headache, eyestrain, temporary blind spots, and all sorts of nervous symptoms.

If you have no regard for the feelings of your neighbors, you must have faith in God, in your fellow men, and in yourself, or else
you will have gloom of spirit, with
all its evil effects upon your soul
and mind and body.

Every doctor will tell you that a contented mind is better than great riches. The Psalmist sang it: the doctors preach it: now so thou and practice it!

When you have converted your crankiness into cheerfulness, you will have faith in God, in your
fellow men, and in yourself, or else
you will have gloom of spirit, with
all its evil effects upon your soul
and mind and body.

weigh who is 25 years old and 5 feet
4 inches tall?

A.—For your age and height you should weigh about 129 pounds.

Miss Dolores B. Q.—What will remove moles?

A.—Consult a skin specialist about having them removed.

A. M. D. Q.—What causes white spots to appear on the skin?

A.—This is due to loss of pigment or coloring matter. There is no specific cure for this condition.

C. M. Q.—Is buritis the correct name for a lump on the shin bone, front part, just below the knee? The lump seems movable. Is electrical treatment helpful in this case? What else would you suggest?

A.—Yes. Electrical treatment may be helpful, but surgical measures are necessary in some instances. Have your doctor advise you.

R. R. Q.—What is the cause of a fibroid tumor and can it be dissolved rather than removed by an operation?

A.—The cause is not definitely known. An operation is the only real cure for removing a fibroid tumor.

Municipal Aid Being Sought By U. S. In Enforcement of Prohibition Law

Huntington, W. Va., Authorities Asked To Prosecute "Small Fry."

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 20. (INS.) The federal government is seeking assistance from municipalities in the enforcement of the prohibition law.

This was divulged here when Mayor James E. Taylor and Chief of Police L. W. Emrick published letters which they had received from James Damron, United States district attorney, and which suggested that the city of Huntington enact a municipal ordinance to provide penalties for dry law violations.

SAVE REVENUE
"If the city of Huntington would make it so these small violators could be tried before a police judge, it would be a great revenue saver for the city and the punishment would be as great or greater than would be meted out in federal court," said Damron's letter.

Damron added that in the future, cases where defendants are charged with possession of less than one-half of a gallon of liquor should be transferred to state courts for trial or should be brought before a justice of the peace court.

FREE FEDERAL COURTS
He declared in hismissive that this step would free the federal courts of numerous "small fry" cases so that more serious infractions, such as manufacture, transportation and sale of intoxicants might move unhampered.

Mayor Taylor previously had held that a prohibition ordinance was unnecessary here, that fed-

"EVIL EYE" IS MURDER PLEA

Many Says He Killed Aged Widow of Minister, Fearing Her Power.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 20. (INS.) With the arrest of a man and his wife here today police declared they had cleared up the grotesque murder of a 75-year-old minister's widow whose battered body was found, weighted down at the bottom of a cistern.

The victim, Mrs. Loretta Fairchild, visited at the home of her alleged slayers, Eugene Burgess, 30, and his wife, Pearl, Thursday night. Police say the latter two have freely confessed the killing, declaring that the aged woman had an "evil-eye" and that they feared she intended to kill their 17-year-old daughter, Eugenia, by means of a "mysterious power."

The aged widow who had been an inmate of the Merrill Home for the Aged since the death of her pastor husband boasted that she had used her power to kill 100 persons a year for the last 25 years according to Mr. and Mrs. Burgess.

Recounting details of the murder Burgess said: "I walked up behind her as she sat at the dining room table. I had a lead pipe in one hand and a hammer in the other. I hit her. She fell over the table. I hit her again and again after dragging her into the living room. I wanted to be sure I had finished the job."

Chas. La Savage for second choice. He declared the Ahrens-Fox corporation has charged high prices for its repair services and parts, pointing out that repairs could be obtained quicker from the Seagrave corporation which also has tested drivers passing through here frequently. He also called attention to Seagrave 10-year guarantee.

Councilman Frank Marion also declared that the choice is up to the board of control. However, his personal inclination, he said, was to the Seagrave because of its nearness for service and his preference for a centrifugal or rotary pump. He declared his opposition to the Cincinnati firm's method of doing business in regard to the old truck, for which he said the city could have obtained more money by selling it as junk in the city. Councilman Marion expressed the belief that the tearing down and storage bill of $199 for the old truck, after it had been sold for $200, was a sales lever for the Ahrens-Fox Co.

That the board of control can make no mistake in purchasing either the Seagrave or Ahrens-Fox pumper was the opinion of Councilman W. L. Henn, who was chairman of the meeting.

CHIEF'S IDEA IGNORED
It was learned at the conference that 10 recommendations of Fire Chief Talmer Wise for extra equipment on the new pumper were ignored in the specifications on which bids were asked. The recommendations, which he said could have been included without raising the purchase price, were made to Safety Director Clay at his request. Now this equipment, if purchased, will cost extra, it is said.

The recommendations of Fire

Chief Wise, which were not included in the specifications that called merely for standard equipment, are as follows: two axes (one ax is standard); two electric lanterns, fire department style (two oil lanterns, considered obsolete, in standard equipment); one 2 1-2 Babcock extinguisher; one Foamite 2 1-2 gallon extinguisher for gasoline and electric fires; windshield of non-shatter glass; three 10 1-2 foot lengths of suction hose, (two are standard equipment); one 12 inch electric search light in front; one 6-inch electric searchlight in rear; 85-gallon booster tank (60 gallon tank is standard), and hose body for the department's 1600 feet of hose (1200 feet is standard).

"EVIL EYE" IS MURDER PLEA

Many Says He Killed Aged Widow of Minister, Fearing Her Power.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 20.—(INS.)—With the arrest of a man and his wife here today police declared they had cleared up the grotesque murder of a 75-year-old minister's widow whose battered body was found, weighted down, at the bottom of a cistern.

The victim, Mrs. Loretta Fairchild, visited at the home of her alleged slayers, Eugene Burgess, 53, and his wife, Pearl, Thursday night. Police say the latter two have freely confessed the killing, declaring that the aged woman had an "evil-eye" and that they feared she intended to kill their 17-year-old daughter, Eugenia, by means of a "mysterious power."

The aged widow, who had been an inmate of the Merrill Home for the Aged since the death of her pastor husband, boasted that she had used her "power" to kill 100 persons a year for the last 25 years, according to Mr. and Mrs. Burgess.

His daughter, Eugenia, has been ill, Burgess related, and he feared that she would be the next victim of Mrs. Fairchild's "evil eye." Recounting details of the murder, Burgess said: "I walked up behind her as she sat at the dining room table. I had a lead pipe in one hand and a hammer in the other. I hit her. She fell over the table. I hit her again and again after dragging her into the living room. I wanted to be sure I had finished the job."

BABE RUTH HURT

CLEVELAND, July 20.—Babe Ruth, famous home run slugger, who pulled a muscle in his leg during a game at Detroit last Wednesday, will be out of the New York lineup for the remainder of the Yankee-Indian series, and perhaps indefinitely longer, Miller Huggins, Yankee Pilot, revealed today.

erican La Savage for second choice. He declared the Ahrens-Fox corporation has charged high prices for its repair services and parts, pointing out that repairs could be obtained quicker from the Seagrave corporation which also has tested drivers passing through here frequently. He also called attention to Seagrave 10-year guarantee.

Councilman Frank Marion also declared that the choice is up to the board of control. However, his personal inclination, he said, was to the Seagrave because of its nearness for service and his preference for a centrifugal or rotary pump. He declared his opposition to the Cincinnati firm's method of doing business in regard to the old truck, for which he said the city could have obtained more money by selling it as junk in the city. Councilman Marion expressed the belief that the tearing down and storage bill of $199 for the old truck, after it had been sold for $200, was a sales lever for the Ahrens-Fox Co.

That the board of control can make no mistake in purchasing either the Seagrave or Ahrens-Fox pump was the opinion of Councilman W. L. Henn, who was chairman of the meeting.

CHIEF'S IDEA IGNORED
It was learned at the conference that 10 recommendations of Fire Chief Talmer Wise for extra equipment on the new pump were ignored in the specifications on which bids were asked. The recommendations, which he said could have been included without raising the purchase price, were made to Safety Director Clay at his request. Now this equipment, if purchased, will cost extra, it is said.

The recommendations of Fire

Chief Wise, which were not included in the specifications that called merely for standard equipment, are as follows: two axes (one ax is standard); two electric lanterns, fire department style (two oil lanterns, considered obsolete, in standard equipment); one 2 1-2 Babcock extinguisher; one Foamite 2 1-2 gallon extinguisher for gasoline and electric fires; windshield of non-shatter glass; three 10 1-2 foot lengths of suction hose, (two are standard equipment); one 12 inch electric search light in front; 85-gallon booster tank (60 gallon tank is standard), and hose body for the department's 1600 feet of hose (1200 feet is standard).
